LESSON 4 'THE WAVE OF FORTUNE'

SUPPORT MATERIAL: IMPORTANCE, BLUEBIRD OF HAPPINESS, BOOMERANG.

In our previous lessons we covered, the Space of Variations, Pendulums, and learning how to defeat Pendulums by dropping importance, 'renting yourself out', and not creating excess potential. Now, comes for the fun! When you have successfully managed to follow the discussed steps you have set yourself up for the delightful encounters with 'the Wave of Fortune', also referred to as 'the Wave of Success' and the Bluebird of Happiness...

Metaphors such as "The Bluebird of Happiness" and "The Wheel of Fortune" have quite a material basis. It is well known that success and failure follow one another, like bad days and good days. How do we exclude bad days from our lives?

Your Thoughts are coming back to you like a boomerang

Q & A

Q: Why is good news so quickly forgotten yet bad news lingers?

A: Good news doesn't stir the same emotions as bad news.

Q: Why is the story about the man missing his plane relevant?

A: Negative thought frequency attracts negative events.

Q Why is there the same response when one misses out on positive events as well?

A: As humans we do not like when there are changes to the script we have created inside of our heads.

Q: To maintain your ride on the 'The Wave of Fortune', what are the key things to remember?

A: Maintain positive thought emissions, drop importance, do not create excess potential, beware of pendulums, be on good terms with yourself and your surroundings.

CONCLUSION

So now we know exactly why we usually get what we actively do not want. We also know why we receive what we actively strive for, without creating excess potential of course. It is crucial that we maintain a positive thought frequency to not only remain on the wave of fortune but also to maintain a pleasurable environment. Once you have experienced the delightful cascade of pleasant events that come along with 'the Wave of Fortune' you will slowly begin to understand how you can extend these ride and harvest more and more desirable events and circumstances from them. You will also start to recognize the destructive effects pendulums have on these rides and thus they become easier to recognize and manage. I hope you have enjoyed the conclusion of Module I, and hope you will join us for additional Transurfing discoveries in Module II.
